ABOUT THIS SUBJECT

In this unit students are introduced to the concept of an information system (IS). It deals with the systems development life cycle as a framework for IS development and emphasises the role and involvement of users in an IS project. The use of appropriate fact-finding techniques in systems analysis and an introduction to data flow and E-R modelling are covered. Several information system case studies are used to illustrate the concepts introduced. Students will receive hands-on experience in the construction of a small information system using a suitable prototyping tool. The subject also introduces file design, input/output/interface design, file conversion and implementation techniques.

SUBJECT INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOMES (SILOS)

Upon successful completion of this subject, you should be able to:

- 1 Use a generalised model of an information system (IS) to analyse, identify and effectively describe the components of a simple real-life information system.
- 2 Describe the Systems Development Life Cycle approach to developing IS.
- 3 Use established fact finding techniques to elicit IS requirements for a simple business scenario.
- 4 Use Context and Level 0 Data Flow Diagrams and a System Dictionary to adequately describe the requirements for a simple IS.
- 5 Use Entity-Relationship Diagrams to design the database for a simple IS.
- 6 Critique the design of the user interface of a simple IS.
- 7 Justify the choice of an implementation approach and security requirements for a new IS.

Turnitin is a web-based text-matching software system used at La Trobe University to assist you in writing your assignments and checking for similarity with existing published work. Please remember to allow adequate time for you to submit your assignment to Turnitin. It is your responsibility to have your assignment submitted by the assessment due date. Not receiving an originality report is not an acceptable reason for requesting an assignment extension unless it is a required part of the assessment.

HURDLE REQUIREMENTS

There are a variety of assessment hurdles or conditions for passing a subject other than the overall mark. Hurdle Requirements may be built into the assessment of the learning outcomes of your subject.

The Hurdle Requirements for this subject are: To pass the subject, a pass in the examination is mandatory.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATION

If you are not able to complete an assessment task on the scheduled date due to exceptional circumstances beyond your control, you may be eligible for Special Consideration.

Information regarding Special Consideration can be found at <http://www.latrobe.edu.au/special-consideration>

REQUEST AN EXTENSION OF TIME TO SUBMIT AN ASSIGNMENT TASK

Penalties apply if you submit an assessment after the due date.

If the assessment task is worth 15% or more of the total assessment for this subject and you are not able to submit it by the due date, you will need to request for an extension of time to submit. To do this or find more information go to <http://www.latrobe.edu.au/students/admin/forms/request-an-extension>

For extensions of time for assessment tasks worth less than 15% of your total mark, contact your subject coordinator. Poor time management is not an acceptable reason for an extension.
